Claremont, CA - Claremont Heritage is pleased to announce its 2023 annual Home Tour ~ Art & Architecture, which will take place on Sunday October 8th, 2023. This year's tour promises to be an exceptional event, with docent-led tours of six beautiful homes that have a connection to Claremont's significant art heritage. Featuring past or current homes and studios of some of Claremont's most noted artists, this tour will give an insight into how local artists lived and worked.

Some of the artists homes studios included will be Karl Benjamin, Harrison McIntosh, James & Liz Fuller, Sandy Garcia, and Cathy Garcia.

Claremont Heritage is proud to organize the Home Tour every year, and the organization relies on the support of the community to continue its work in preserving the city's heritage. By attending the Home Tour, visitors can contribute to the organization's efforts to maintain the city's rich architectural and cultural legacy. This event is perfect for anyone interested in architecture, art, or local history.

Tickets for the Home Tour will go on sale September 1, 2023, at www.claremontheritage.org or at business locations throughout Claremont, including the historic Garner House, home of Claremont Heritage, and where tour-goers will check in.

There will also be an exhibition on display that highlights the homes on the tour.

Sponsorships will also be available for this popular event and will reach a client base that is interested in History, Architecture, Interior Design, Art and Culture.

Claremont Heritage, a non-profit organization, was formed in 1976 by citizens of Claremont to carry out a mission to advance, preserve and celebrate the historic architectural, natural and cultural resources of our community through collaboration, education and advocacy.
